REGARDS FOR RETIRING PASTOR

Is Shown When People Of Community
Gather By Hundreds At Farewell Service Of Rev Walker

The farewell service at the Christain church Sunday night was as impressive as it was beautiful. It was the occasion of Dr. D. M. Walker's last Sunday as pastor of the church he has so magnificently served and it was made memorable by hoth the evidence of esteem in which he is held and the splendid feeling and brotherly love of the churches here. The other denominations dismissed services and at 7 o'clock Sunday eventiage probably the largest crowd ever seen in Stanford Christian church had gathered to express in some way the love and admiration held for him who was soon to take his departure.

Ile had no ill-feeling in his heart against a soul, for long ago he had begun to pray for those who had to pray for those who had the payer until all feeling, except for good, had departed.

Nicola Marschall, said signer of the Confeders in Louisville. He was 88 Mrs. Walker, sang as never before. All was grown to a close.

Friends of Mrs. Walker, the heloved wife of the pastor, presented her with a pocket book containing $100, "as a slight token of love and affection."

Not in years has the giving up for usefulness elsewhere of a Stanford into a northhot citizen caused as much comment and affection."

Not in years has the giving up for usefulness elsewhere of a Stanford citizen caused as much comment and if the Shelbyville folk knew how hard it was for our people to give the payer.

Army officers have been selected to be placed at more than the payer of the course of the love and admiration held for him was filled and for two hours the audience was held interested and edified.

That the 'Shelbyville church has succeeded in securing the most popular Christian preacher in Central Kentucky, none who saw the mani-festations of Sunday night and know festations of Sunday night and know conditions will gainsay. Dr. Walker is a man of strength; a powerful speaker; an able preacher and is in every way fitted for the work he has chosen. He is a student and a thinker, and possessed of indomitable energy and vim, his fight for good against evil is ever terrific. He compromises with no sin, nor semblace of it. It must be good, or "Preacher." Walker will not put his O. K. on it. Still a very young man, we expect to see him climb higher on the ladder of fame, and shall watch his record. Nine years ago he came to Stanford, then a mere boy, but he has grown the manner of the preachers with old friends here.

James M. Graves, Woodford county's oldest citizen, is dead, aged 91.

The aged John Anderson, of the Preachersville vicinity, is very low and it is feared that he cannot last long.

James J. Russell and Miss Etta Watkins, both of the Middleburg section of Casey, were married Monday. License was issued from the county clerk's office here.

J. W. Adams, of Corhin, looking younger than he did when he lived in Lincoln county a dozen years ago, spent several days with old friends here.

Nine years ago he came to Stanford, then a mere boy, but he has grown into manhood and grown bigger and bigger in every way, and will continue to grow until the top shall have been reached.

The exercises of the evening hegan with a song, and later Dr. Walker read a favorite passage o fscripture. Dr. F. M. Tinder, of Lancaster, who with a number of the members of his congregation had come over to be present on the big occasion, then offered a fervent prayer. The pastor made a brief talk, telling of the purpose of the meeting and feelingly speaking of his appreciation of the gathering, after which Rev. P. L. Bruce, president of the Stanford Ministerial Association, paid his respects to Mr. Walker. The latter's life and work had been an inspiration to him and he felt a deep personal loss in his going away. HOME AGAIN

These words contain a peculiar charm to me, who have wandered in many states and many climes, beating around the bush to find if possible as good a place as Stanford, always re-gretting that I left it and praying without ceasing that the Guider of all human affairs would again restore me to those I love and to those who have always shown a good feeling for

Many of our readers have doubtless heard before that Mr. J. H. Wright and myself have bought the pride of my youth and young manhood-the Interior Journal-upon which I spent many pleasant years among the best people of God's footstool. He and I have made an equitable arrangement that we believe and hope will prove advantageous to both of us, and here I am again where I left off some eight years ago, somewhat broadened by experience, I hope, and hetter fitted to aid in giving the people a paper that they will have no cause to be ashamed of.

It was like pulling out his eye teeth

Swincbroad Biggest Cream Seller G. B. Swincbroad, of Garrard, was the best patron of the Stanford Creamery in the month of January. That is, he sent more cream to it. He milks ten line Jerseys and during the month mentioned sold $134.17 worth of cream. Besides this, his family used milk and lutter unsparingly and five calves and 15 shouts got a liberal supply of milk. By the way, the Stanford Creamery is the only one in this section of the State that is being op-erated, and we are glad to know that it is being operated successfully. The for Best

I Am Mighty Proud of My Home-And For Very Good Reasons!

A Rooster that Crowed-

A Dog that Barked-

anda Youngster that never was Still-

The big factory on the hill—how well I remember it—the brook, the mill, the tree with the robin's nest in it!

There was a rooster that crowed every morning, a dog that barked every night, and a youngster that never was still-Me —SOVEREIGN.

I remember the soft south wind that blows gently over the tobacco fields,—the long rows of waving plants of tobaccoand how carefully they are tended, and raised, and cured, and stored—all for the sake of me, SOVEREIGN!

You bet you—I'm proud of my home here down South,-of my old Virginia and Carolina stock! No cigarette in the world ever had such good blood and breeding,nor such a fine family,-nor such a clean, white, wholesome home.

That's me, SOVEREIGN, a Southern gentleman, and one of you-all and a part of you, because—

You Folks of the South KNOW good blood! You folks of the South KNOW good tobacco!

I'm going to spend all my days right down South here among my good friends like you—and I am proud to say this, too—

> I am guaranteed by The American Tobacco G - Buy me. If you don't like me return me to your dealer and get your money back. I have said it. A Southern gentleman is known the world over for keeping his word, and I have given you mine.
